

The Daily Bulletin.

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But Established for the Benefit of All.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 18, 1894

This paper is not complying with "demands" of the Star this year. If that sheet means a challenge, however, as to the correspondence written by teachers for the Government press, we are ready for it. What the Bulletin has said about the correspondence in the Government press written by teachers can be proved simply by exhibition of the MS. to any competent examiners. The Star may work itself up to blood heat, yet it may find out for itself that the new Board of Education has for different causes failed even to win the usual plaudits of public commendation which generally falls to the "new broom." Its shilly-shallying in getting a new code earned it contemptuous regard, while its harsh political conduct, especially toward Italy teachers, has aroused indignation even among supporters of the Government.

GARDENERS AND DIPLOMATS.

"The salary of the Minister and of the Charlie in Washington are grossly inadequate. Interests here of the value of many millions are at stake, while the salaries paid are inferior to the earnings of some of the vegetable gardeners around Washington."

When the Advertiser made this remark the other day, in the course of an article to bemoan the salaries of Messrs. Thurston and Hastings, we were struck with the slyness of the comparison between the salaries of our great diplomats and the income of the truck gardeners of the American capital. There is no better business for a man to go into singly than raising vegetables near a large city. Having no specific fact bearing on the matter before us at the time, we let the quoted remark pass. But now we find the following paragraph in an exchange which just suits the occasion:

There are truck "farms" in New York city, avers the Mail and Express, which are assessed at $100,000 an acre.

The vegetable gardener of Washington may not be taxed for $100,000 an acre, but there is no doubt he has a sufficiently good claim of it to be the envy of many a prudentially wealthy planter of Hawaii, who registers at the Palace Hotel when he takes a trip to the Coast. Of this fact the Advertiser editor was doubtless well aware when he made the comparison in question. It shows a poor cause when such a shyster argument has to be adopted in its support.

LUMBER LOWERS.

Fresh Arrivals and Spot Cash Prices
Discussed.

Two vessels, the Matilda and Anna, arrived yesterday from the Sound with full cargoes of lumber for Alton & Hobson. Lumber at present is delivered ready for carriage at the cost of $10 a thousand feet, and the freight to the port is $7.50 a thousand feet.

The price for lumber here is very low these times, and just about leaves a margin for the lumber merchants. They have to supply labor to pile the lumber after it has been discharged from the ships. In former years the price of lumber was $25 a thousand feet, but now one can secure lumber at $20. For "spit oak" the material can be obtained at half-times prices.

It is currently reported that the Japanese intend opening a lumber yard here and selling at bed-rock prices. A company from Vancouver was to start one some time ago, but it appears the prospects were not very encouraging, as the yard has not yet materialized.

A Grand Feature.

Of Hooch's Sarapilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hooch's Sarapilla makes a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hooch's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

HEALING THE SICK.

A Morning at the Free Dispensary—
The Vaccination Law.

The government dispensary on King street near Richards street was crowded this morning with old and young, mostly Portuguese, all there for medical attendance. Some were there to be vaccinated and others for various ailments. One young boy had a fish hook in his nose and Dr. Howard with a pair of pincers extracted it in the twinkling of an eye. With regard to a regulation recently passed by the Board of Health, imposing a fine of not less than $50 on a teacher who allowed a scholar to attend school without being vaccinated, Dr. Howard stated that the regulation had not been enforced. The teachers had been given a sufficient length of time to comply with the law. In the meantime the doctor was awaiting a supply of virus. About five hundred school children of all classes have been vaccinated during the past few weeks.
